Justice Will Address First Baptists

The services at the First Baptist church of Oakland tomorrow will be devoted to the interests of young men. At the evening service Dr. Snape will take for his theme "Is the young man a man?"

From various angles, is he safe? Is he safe if he seeks something for nothing? Is he safe if he values luck above knowledge? Is he safe if he chooses the path of least resistance? Is he safe if he has lost his respect for his father? Is he safe if he ridicules his mother's religion?

Preceding the evening sermon Judge W. H. Waste, presiding justice of the Court of Appeals, will give a brief address on "The Church and Politics." At the morning service F. A. McCarl, international secretary of the Y. M. C. A., will give the address on "The Church and the Young Man." Chase Lloyd has been elected choir director for the church and will proceed to re-organize the chorus choir. Hugh Williams, well known tenor, has been engaged as one of the soloists and with Mrs. Flora Bruner as soprano, the church is planning to give some very special musical treats.

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENTS

RE-ELECT J. A. ELSTON TO CONGRESS

Don't Jeopardize the Naval Base

J. A. ELSTON, who has represented Alameda County in Congress for three terms, is again a candidate for the Republican nomination and should be returned. To send an untied man to the House of Representatives in this crucial year may be disastrous to the county and the country. The County at large and Alameda County need the services of a man of experience. Problems of world-wide importance confront the next session of Congress and problems of the utmost importance to Alameda County are pending. The people of Alameda County need J. A. Elston because of his knowledge of these affairs. A new and untied man may mean disaster to many important plans.

The claims of Alameda County to the Naval Base are not yet settled. Congressman Elston has this matter in charge and a change in the Alameda County representative in Congress at this time will jeopardize the location of the Naval Base on this side of the Bay.

J. A. Elston was on guard in Washington during the war times giving his aid to the great problems that confronted Congress and yet watching the interests of Alameda County and securing for the industry upon this side of the bay the contracts that have built them into great plants employing thousands of well-paid men and women.

J. A. Elston was a War Congressman and as such he deserves return, if for no other reason.

He has pending in Congress appropriations for harbor dredging and postoffice buildings that will be serious handicap and impediment to a change is made.

The stand of J. A. Elston in Congress has been sold upon all great questions and he should be returned without question.

The primary election on Tuesday next is equivalent to the final election because whoever secures the Republican nomination then will be elected in November. The vote at the primary determines the election. Go to the polls and vote for J. A. Elston August 31.

Closing Out Sale—

Entire Stock to be Sold to the Public

A very interesting case recently came before The Better Business Bureau of Oakland.

A certain retailer advertised that he was going out of business—that his entire stock and fixtures were to be sold out to the public.

On investigation this Bureau found that certain store fixtures were being reserved for the continuation of the business by a man who at that time had a substantial financial interest in the firm.

The Better Business Bureau contended in view of this fact the heading, "Going Out of Business" was absolutely misleading to the public.

Matter was called to the attention of the individuals involved. They courteously accepted the objection and expressed a desire to co-operate with the Bureau in promoting better business methods in this city.

The work of this Bureau can reach its ultimate goal only when the people of this community learn to appreciate its service—when every business man and purchaser is alert to detect fraudulent advertising or questionable business practices.

Such advertising and business practices should be reported to this Bureau for investigation.

NO FACTS OFFERED.

The special committee of twenty-one created on August 5 to study the subject of county and city consolidation decided at its meeting Thursday evening to move for the organization of a larger body of citizens, to be known as the Alameda County Charter League. Its plans in this connection will be submitted at a mass meeting in the City Hall, September 2, and if ratified this charter league therefor will be the body to which the citizens will look for the information needed and desired. The new organization will be open to any elector in the county and no doubt a large number of interested voters will avail themselves of this opportunity to study the proposal now agitated.

Another decision, and it is to be highly commended, of the committee of twenty-one was that it would take no action looking toward the nomination of freeholders to be voted on at a special election until such time as the public may join in a charter league for the careful examination of the consolidation project. The committee did not believe it possessed the necessary information to guide the public in a proper decision of the question of invoking an expensive special freeholders' election at this time.

That the committee was justified in its decision of this course is shown by the report of the so-called sub-committee on "facts." This report so betrayed the confidence based on the name of the sub-committee and failed in so lamentable a degree to meet expectations that it was itself a striking demonstration of the need for caution. The sub-committee on "facts" reported no facts at all. It offered no reliable information, presented no substantial data which might be examined, weighed and tested.

The committee confessed in the preamble of its report that it was appointed for the purpose of "gathering data." But merely said, "We are convinced that a saving of $250,000 and upwards could be made on purchases" and "we see no reason why a saving of upwards of $1,000,000 could not be made for the taxpayers of the county." Then the committee recommended the selection of freeholders at once.

There is nothing that the Committee of Twenty-one requested or the public expected. No one asked for notice of convictions entertained, or "we see no reason" or for recommendations. The public expected facts from the sub-committee on "facts." All it got was a repetition of an agitator's propaganda for an immediate, expensive and futile special election, behind which lurks the absolutely certain and formidable danger of county division.

Now, what are the facts? The committee on "facts" offered no facts, but the flighty arguments that savings in expense and reduction in taxes will result from consolidation are not opinions and convictions. It wants facts as to when, in what manner and to what extent expenses may be reduced. Stump speeches are not appropriate when the public demands simple information. The only in response to the demand is information, facts.

If any sub-committee of the Committee of Twenty-one or the proposed charter league devotes its efforts to restating merely the arguments of persons who get their orders from San Francisco and who are suspected of plotting the division of the Eastbay district, a danger of which they are not ignorant, it will cease to deserve public confidence. Let this committee or whatever organization succeeds in getting down to the business of giving the public honest and real information.

MARSHAL FOCH.

When the directing genius of the Allies campaign in France visits the United States he will be accorded a welcome greater than has been given to any other foreign visitor with the possible exception of his own countryman of another generation—Lafayette. There is every reason why the United States should honor the upright Christian man, Ferdinand Foch, and the patient and fearless strategist who led the victorious forces in the world war.

Marshal Foch will live in history as one of the greatest of military geniuses. Trained in the academic theories of war he was no mere receptacle for empty phrases and meaningless diagrams when the chance came for him to apply his knowledge. As a teacher in a military college he refused to allow routine to dull his interest until it has been said that he not only believed what he taught, but refused to impart as fact anything which seemed to him of no tactical importance.

Before the war Marshal Foch was a mild church-going gentleman, a pleasant neighbor and companionable friend. Only those who knew that his interest in things military had caused him to reject such a war as later proved the world have explanation of the manner in which he took his place as director of the campaign. Foch never held there would be such a war but he laid out the possibilities on his library table and studied them for the benefit of his classes and of civilization.

That same force which puts dreams into the minds of unassuming men is the one that supplies the answer to the seeming miracle—the appearance of a real leader when most needed.

HARBOR SURVEY PROMISED.

Plans for a comprehensive survey of the harbor facilities and possibilities on the continental side of San Francisco Bay were launched yesterday at a meeting of the harbor developments committee of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce. This is specially gratifying to the Tribune, which has been urging a comprehensive survey of the Eastbay harbors for the last five years.

A special committee was organized to gather data and present it to the local representative of the army board of rivers and harbors engineers. All the industries and businesses on harbor fronts in Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda and Albany will be asked to submit figures on their present and prospective use of harbor facilities and their opinions as to the development of new facilities. They should respond promptly, in order that when the local committee opens its conferences with the army engineers they will not be lacking in any desirable information.

The federal government, under a project approved in 1910, has spent about $5,000,000 in developing Oakland harbor. There are at present several plans for private harbor development under municipal grants.

The establishment of a large terminal has already been started, one unit being completed and in service, on the western waterfront in Oakland. It is known as the Parr Terminal. It is probable that in time other projects will be carried along the western waterfront. There are demands for additional facilities in the inner harbor, such as extensions to the municipal quay and warehouse at the foot of Jefferson street.

In Berkeley public lands have been leased to private interests under an agreement calling for the development of shipping and rail terminal to be known as the Pacific Ports Terminals. Work on this project will be started shortly. Other harbor facilities between the site of this proposed Berkeley terminal and the Key Route basin in Oakland may be undertaken in the future.

It is highly desirable that the improvement of existing harbor accommodations and the development of new facilities be carried out under a general scheme, approved by the federal government and contemplating the most efficient utilization of the extensive Eastbay waterfront. For instance, it is imperative that the projects in the Key Route basin and at Berkeley be so planned that further development on the Oakland and Berkeley waterfronts between these two projects will harmonize and fit into a general layout both for pier head and channel improvement.

By making a comprehensive, expert survey of the harbor situation in the Eastbay cities, and adopting a harmonious plan, the danger of haphazard and unwise projects will be lessened. As regards the municipalities, intelligent judgment will be made much easier and the public hope that waste will be avoided would be much encouraged.

"Love of romance" is just as good as any other excuse a young woman of well-to-do parents could give for a career of obtaining money by fictitious checks. And perhaps a sentimental jury would accept it with the same alacrity with which they accept all the other false explanations of crime.

AMERICAN TRADE.

China's total foreign trade for 1919 expressed in American dollars amounted to approximately $1,736,000,000. American participation in this trade to the approximate total of $56,745,000, or about sixteen and a half percent. For the first time in the history of the commercial relations of these two republics of the Pacific America led in the trade of Shanghai, the Chinese port. American, $184,500,000; Japan, $158,000,000; Great Britain, $129,146,500; France, $15,587,000. American figures in reality are much larger than they indicate for considerable American merchandise is included in the figures of Japan, Canada and Hongkong. In the period between 1910 and 1920 American participation in the China trade has nearly tripled. There are many reasons back of this, but most persons will agree that the largest single element is in the fact that America is now conducting her trade with China directly. With American shipping and banking and some 500 American firms directly or indirectly in the first time in many years to benefit directly from the popularity of American merchandise with the people of China. This element is of tremendous importance. If American trade is to be permanently expanded and maintained, Americans have got to do the job themselves. America can no more expect other nations to permanently help build up her foreign trade than the individual can logically expect another man to conduct his evening card business. — William L. Brown, Treasurer.

NOTES and COMMENT

Pittsburg's population of 4175 give her official basis for the claim that she has $57 more than Martinez. An interesting fact is that there are 1130 persons in the city who are represented by ten names, and that there are twenty Jack Avellos in the directory. Despite the fact that a recent census compiled by the Elks showed 527 names the Pittsburg Dispatch is inclined to believe that some of those live outside the limits and that the government figures are correct. The gain over the census of ten years ago was close to 100 per cent.

Martinez' first cafeteria recently opened its doors and already there are beginning to realize that things will never be quite the same.

General Tuchatchewski, the Soviet Napoleon, has been relieved of his command. He evidently took off more than he could chew.

The spectacle of hundreds of women fighting for place to hear the evidence in the salacious Clark murder case is one that defies all of the polite philosophies concerning the gentler sex.

It looks as if Cox has started something that will finish him.

Predictions of 10 cent sugar by January are so far unaccompanied by promises of a drop in the price of candy and soft drink.

Vanderlip says he has looked on the other side of the curtain in Russia. And what did he see, Trotsky and Lenin pulling the rope?

Just to rob the good news of its full effect it may be said that the 10 cent sugar will not arrive until after the home canning season has closed.

Colonel House has broken an impressive silence to make a somewhat less impressive assertion. "The next president," he told interviewers in Paris, "will be either Cox or Harding."

A glance at the likenesses displayed by political candidates suggests that the photographers must have done a good business about twenty years ago.

A number of young men who are attending medical colleges will report to father as soon as they learn how to write a prescription.

No sooner had suffrage been ratified than a Pittsburg crook started in to collect "poll tax" from the women of his city. The victims may keep their receipts as evidence of an honest tax payment.

Since the 35 cent shave has been instituted at Bakersfield a lot of men no longer have even a scraping acquaintance with a barber.

SPRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

California grapes are in such demand in the markets of the East and Middle West this season, certain types of bunco men and fake commission operators apparently are having an easy time reaping a golden harvest of dollars dealing purely in imaginary deliveries which originate and end in the mind of the broker.—Sacramento Bee.

A good cartoon published recently showed the old swimming hole brought up to date. Instead of grunting urchins submerged to hide the lack of bathing suits, a group of pretty young girls dressed in modish but modest bathing attire posed beside and in the water. It is a good commentary on the modern attitude toward the gentle art of swimming, which has grown from a purely masculine diversion to an athletic exercise in which both women and men are experts. Even in northerly climates there will be a few weeks more in which to practice this finest of all exercises. It is a great pity for any person who could enjoy it, whatever age or sex, to let the chance go by.—Stockton Independent.

Some philosopher has said that women are happiest after they have reached two ages of 35 years. Still very few of them reach it until after they are fifty.—Woodland Democrat.

While seated before the tunnel of the Horse Shoe gold quartz mine near Challenge eating their lunch, George Roberts and Will Belk, workmen employed at the mine, were startled by sudden falling of rocks and pebbles from the ledge of rock above. A moment later they were panic-stricken when two huge rattlesnakes, engaged in mortal combat, came rolling and tumbling down the steep hillside, landing in their midst and fighting furiously.—Oroville Register.

C'MON OVER HERE AN' LOOK!

WARSAW: The Paris of Poland

"No other people, in all the world's history has borne oppression so bravely and gloriously as the Poles, except the Jews, and Warsaw, where the Russians had to keep a garrison of 200,000 troops to overawe a city of 500,000 people," is to Poland what Paris is to France," says a bulletin of the National Geographic Society, "concerning the present center of world attention."

"Indeed the vivacity, the gaiety and the quick wit of Warsaw's people is a constant reminder of Paris, as well as those deeper likenesses which spring from Warsaw's ascendancy in the letters, the arts and the social graces."

"All this, too, in a city where the most gruesome tragedies have stalked. As recently as the years of our own civil war the Russian army mowed down thousands of men and women as they knelt in the snow, singing their national anthem. Deportations are an old story in Warsaw, every effort at nationalization was followed by slaughter and hundreds marched the long trail to Siberian exile."

"But Poland's spirit, meanwhile, became a synonym for the indomitable. The success of the Russianization of Poland has been described as the process of keeping 12,000,000 Poles pinned to Russia by bayonets. Politically non-existent, for even Poland's name was expunged from all official Russian records, the pre-war Warsaw vied with world capitals in science, particularly medicine, in manufacturing, in trade and in literature."

"Though Warsaw betrayed none of the grimness characteristic of Russian cities, reminders of her bygone glories and tragedies were to be found even before the world was restored her autonomy."

"In the Lazienki Gardens is a monument to John Sobieski, who stemmed the advance of the Turks in Europe, a figure as picturesque as a legend, who now seems no less a barrier to Bolshevism's westward spread. It was in 1683 that a Turkish force had thrown itself in crescent formation around Vienna. The encampment was no less threatening because it resembled a circus rather than a siege, with its herds of camels and luxurious tents with baths and parrots within and fountains without."

"Mighty events often hinge on slender circumstances. Sobieski hesitated because Leopold, Austria's emperor, first declined to address him as 'His Majesty.' But Sobieski's hesitation is said to have vanished when he learned that the French ambassador had written to Louis XIV, who rather hoped for the worst for Austria. 'Don't trouble yourself. Sobieski is too fat to sit on a horse and fight.' The 'fat man' rode his charger into the thick of the fight, helping him his way to where the Turkish grand vizier stood, and after the battle handed one of the dictator's stirrups to an aide, with the command, 'Take it to the queen and tell her that he to whom it belonged is deceased and slain.'"

"The sublime often is strangely blended with the inconsequential. They will tell you this story, with much detail, in Warsaw, while the Vienna visitor formerly was sure to hear about a little coffee house on the Graben. That was kept by a descendant of a brave Polish hero who carried through the Turkish lines to Sobieski's headquarters an urgent call for his city's aid. He was rewarded with permission to open the first coffee house in Vienna, and there originated, in just at the defeated enemy's formation, the crescent-shaped bun, known around the world as the Vienna roll."

"Of such deeds of heroism, picturesque legends and frequent calamity, is Poland's history composed."

"Other cities have lost their political importance and held their heads high because of a proud past, but Warsaw, persecuted as it was, has a highly important economic present. In normal times it was the geographical center of Europe, the local point for rail shipments from Russia and Asia to Western Europe even though the actual western terminus of the trans-Siberian railway was at Moscow, and its location on the Vistula gave it a place on Europe's inland waterways comparable to that of St. Louis on the Mississippi. Its output of shoes, metal articles and cotton makes its product sound like that of a busy New England city, and its long commercial arm even reached out to drop half a million dollars' worth of beet sugar into America in those different days before 1914."

"Numerous castles of the old Polish nobility were converted into municipal offices by the Russians, that for the Polish drama and ballet, being an especially beautiful building with two theaters under one roof. In artistic dancing Warsaw is pre-eminent, and its dances and the polka being two characteristic steps. Its university has a notable book collection and many scientific specimens."

Establishment of a new ferry line from Oakland to San Francisco, under the possible direction of the Six Minute Ferry Company of Vallejo, is being considered by council members as a possible means to relieve the congestion of automobile traffic. Already conferences have been held between city officials here and A. G. Gordon of the Six Minute Ferry Company.

While no definite announcement will be made by Gordon or the Oakland commissioners, it is understood that the plans call for the erection of a slip on city property beyond the Alameda mill and for the use of the new city road being constructed to the mill and beyond.

SODERBERG RETICENT

Another proposal is that the Six Minute Ferry Company run an automobile ferry direct from San Francisco to Richmond and in that way relieve some of the burden on the Oakland route.

Commissioner Frederick Soderberg today admitted that he had met Gordon in Oakland, but said he could not speak of Oakland-San Francisco ferry plans at this time. An important announcement on the subject, he said, would be made soon.

"I understand that the Six Minute Ferry Company has practically completed plans for a ferry to run direct from San Francisco to Richmond and this would relieve Oakland of this traffic," said Soderberg. "At present automobiles and trucks bound for Richmond land at the foot of Broadway and have to motor all the way from this city to Richmond."

SEES TRAFFIC EASED

"You might say that all the passenger and freight traffic to Richmond from San Francisco passes through Oakland. Under the new arrangement Oakland will lose this travel and it will do much to relieve congestion."

Soderberg said the plans of the Six Minute Ferry Company, but as to the establishment by him of an automobile ferry from Oakland I cannot speak at present.

Soderberg said the plans of K. S. Heck, harbor engineer, on a scheme to relieve the automobile ferry congestion had been delayed because of scarcity of draftsmen in the engineer's office. An additional draftsman has been obtained and the project will go forward rapidly.

Legion's Auxiliary Plans Entertainment

The Women's Auxiliary of Oakland Post No. 5, of the American Legion will hold a social gathering in the Golden West hall, Pacific building, Sixteenth and Jefferson streets. There will be entertainment and dancing, followed by a banquet. Legion members have been invited to attend the affair. Auxiliary members are also urged to come.

Alameda Going Back to Band Concerts

BISHOP LEONARD FETTERED BY THREE CHURCH SOCIETIES

Dr. Adna W. Leonard, bishop of the San Francisco area of the Methodist church of the world, president of the Epworth League, was given a reception at the First Methodist Episcopal church last night by 1500 young people's organizations. Clergymen from various denominations were present.

Arrangements had been made for overflow meetings, but by allowing the young people to sit on stairways, upper aisles and in the choir loft, the crowd was taken care of. With special songs, the three societies of different denominations marched into the church by separate doors. The San Francisco and transbay delegations marched from Key Route Inn, the Baptist young people from the First Baptist church, and the Christian Endeavorers, about 400 strong, from the First Presbyterian church. Streamers of the league's colors were in profusion everywhere. A large white cross bearing the Epworth League, Christian Endeavor and Baptist young people's insignias was placed at the altar.

DIVISION YELL LEADERS

Each division had its own yell leader and the first-division yells preceding the program was given over to league songs, yells and community singing, led by E. N. Kornhaus, superintendent of the First M. E. church, Oakland. Lloyd Sweetman of Trinity M. E. League, Berkeley, was official yell leader. Mrs. L. B. Cramer was at the piano. "Stunts" and take-offs on the various leagues was a feature of this period.

Short address was made by Charles J. Truman, chairman of the reception committee of twenty-five, explaining the unification meeting, and thanking the various workers for their co-operation. Charles Bowman Hutchins, naturalist and "birdman," gave a program of songs with bird notes. Hutchins worked with Bishop Leonard in the league at one time in Seattle.

The program opened with the reading of the Scriptures by Tolly C. Knoles, president of the College of the Pacific while Dr. John Snape, pastor of the First Baptist church, gave the invocation.

Greetings were read from Dr. Francis E. Clark, world president of the Christian Endeavorers, by W. N. Jenkins, a former vice-president of the society, and from Governor Stephens. Words of welcome were brought by DeWitt Coleman, former president of the Alameda County Conference, James Arnot, outgoing president of the Epworth League, and Reginald Stubbs, president of the Young People's Union.

The benediction was given by Dr. E. R. Dille, pastor of the Alameda M. E. church, and a former pastor of the First church, Oakland.

Ad Club Will Hear Los Angeles Speaker

J. Whitcomb Brougher, pastor of the Temple Baptist auditorium in Los Angeles and noted on the Pacific Coast as an orator, will speak to the Ad Club at its meeting Tuesday. Another feature of the luncheon will be a bird talk and whistling solos by Charles Bowman Hutchins. Brougher's subject is to be "A Ten-geroo Abroad."

Murder Tag Provides Chief Clew in Narcotic Inquiry

Who wrote the word "Murder" on the tag of identification attached to the handbag from which five phials of cocaine and a tin of morphine disappeared during the recent Ollie Woodson murder case?

This question loomed as the feature point last night during a rather tense meeting of the civil service board at the continuation of the hearing of the appeal of Inspector Lou F. Agnew from the order of F. F. Morse, commissioner of Public Safety, to remove Agnew from the force on alleged guilty knowledge of the missing drugs.

Two important bits of testimony stood out as high lights when the board adjourned after a three-hour session to continue the hearing on Tuesday night, September 7.

Inspector Thomas Woods, one of the plain clothes officers who worked on the Woodson case, testified that the words "Ollie Woodson" written on the questioned tag were written by himself as a matter of identification, but that he could not be sure as to whether or not he had written the word "murder."

Under cross examination by Attorney Oliver D. Humlin and former District Attorney W. H. L. Hynes, counsel for Inspector Agnew, Woods declared he had no recollection of having written the word, but that he was unable to swear that he did not. Both bits of handwriting were in indelible pencil.

CALDWELL QUESTIONED

The second important piece of testimony was derived through the examination of Inspector Harry Caldwell, who was placed on the stand by the prosecution and testified that to the best of his belief the word "murder" was penned by Inspector Agnew.

Caldwell was subjected to a grueling cross examination by Hynes, who brought an admission from Caldwell that the latter cannot qualify as a handwriting expert. In controverting this testimony, City Attorney H. L. Hagan brought out the fact that Caldwell was familiar with Agnew's handwriting through association in the bureau, and that he had handled forged cases.

Caldwell further testified that the writing involved was identical with the word "murder" written by Inspector Agnew on six similar identification tags during the commissioner's investigation of the case for purposes of comparison.

During cross examination the defense pointed out alleged differences between the specimens, and the examination reached its climax after Caldwell testified that his inspection of the tag was made at the court house during the Woodson murder trial.

KNOWS OF INQUIRY

Intimating by his line of questioning that he was seeking to show that Caldwell had knowledge of the fact that Agnew was particularly under investigation when he made the tag inspection, Hynes cross examined closely on the circumstances of the inspection of the tag and specimens, and Caldwell testified that he had general knowledge of the case.

Questioned again by Hagan, Caldwell declared he had no definite knowledge that Agnew was the particular subject of investigation, but that he understood from reports that a number of members of the department were subject to probe.

From the time and care spent on the subject it was evident that the question of the writing on the tag will probably be one of the keynotes of the prosecution, the issue being whether or not Inspector Agnew was responsible for placing the substitute tag containing no description of the drugs in the bag.

The fact that the original tag had been replaced was brought out in testimony by placing the substitute tag containing no description of the drugs in the bag.

Tracy testified that he wrote the original tag but not the one that was finally found on the bag.

INSPECTOR WINS POINT

The early minutes of the hearing brought about a sharp brush between the opposing counsel when the prosecution sought to make the accused inspector its own witness, deposing him of the facts of the hearing and conserve the testimony transcript at thirty cents a page.

Serious objection to Agnew testifying as a prosecution witness was made by Attorney Hynes, who demanded that the prosecution be made to prove its own case. Hynes contended that the accused inspector was a public officer, and that the service commissioners, who ruled that the board was after the facts, with a matter of expense a secondary consideration.

Sergeant Frank Ahern, department property clerk, told of his receiving the bag in question from Captain of Inspectors Walter J. Petersen when the latter turned over all property in his possession after being discharged by Commissioner Morse. Ahern did not count the bag's contents at that time, he testified, but did so later and found three bottles of cocaine there.

Shortly after the property was turned over, Ahern testified, acting Captain of Inspectors James Ward inspected the bag, shook his head and said that "there was something funny about it," but made no further statement as to the bag's contents.

TRAFFIC POLICE WILL FRAME NEW AUTOMOBILE CODE

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—The annual convention of the National Traffic Officers' association adjourned after a stormy fight over the proposed uniform traffic code and reported that it had failed to adopt or propose a code of any character.

The presentation of the proposed uniform code will not begin until next year when the fourth annual convention will be held in Chicago. A committee of nine was appointed to draw up the proposed regulations and lay them before the executive committee when it meets in Cleveland, Ohio, next December.

Those on the committee were Robert W. Marland, Oakland; Percy Towne and J. B. Monahan, San Francisco; W. H. Malby, Baltimore; David Van Schick, Hartford; E. W. Braun, Chicago; David R. Faries, Los Angeles; Dr. Clayton Sharp, New York; and J. E. McCurdy, San Mateo. The delegates left for their homes today with the exception of a few who decided to tour the state before going east.

Veteran of Marines Gets 'Victory Button'

William L. Cowan, ex-pharmacist's mate, United States Navy, who resides at 956 San Pablo avenue, Albany, has been issued a silver "Victory Button" by the Navy Recruiting Station, Twelfth and Broadway.

Cowan, at that time, he testified, but did so later and found three bottles of cocaine there.

Shortly after the property was turned over, Ahern testified, acting Captain of Inspectors James Ward inspected the bag, shook his head and said that "there was something funny about it," but made no further statement as to the bag's contents.

TEN OLYMPIC RUNNERS IN TENNESSEE MERRITT MARATHON

SAN FRANCISCO HAS A FINE CHANCE TO WIN ORGANIZATION TROPHY

Italian Clubs Have Many Runners in Training—High Schools Sending in Entries.

By DOUG. MONTELL

Official filing of the entries of the Olympic Club for the eighth annual Merritt Marathon has not yet taken place, but according to the best information obtainable at the club yesterday, Coach Frank Foster had made his decision of the ten leaders who are known to be contestants for the marathon on September 9th. These men have been in training for the event for a month past and it seems to be the prevailing opinion that five Winged "O" men will carry off honors for the team prize over the six and a quarter mile course.

Fred Farmer, who has been in active charge of the club in training the men for the Marathon, is certain to be one of the runners who will be well up in the race. Jim Fuller was one of the early birds to file an entry and is again listed to run the Olympic team in sporting events. The other members of the select ten who are expected to place high up in the race are Maurice Roach, former University of California distance star, O'Neill Carroll, Albern, McMillan, Frost, Lohs and Culham. All these men are strong over distances from a mile upward and are looked to make the best showing toward a team prize of any organization that has given an inkling of its strength to date.

ROACH FIGURES WELL
Roach placed fourth last year, and with Hunter and Churchill out of the running this year only Muller, team mate of Roach, ranks ahead of the Oakland boy for first place honors. He was far from conceding that he held a hold on first place until the race has been run. Farmer placed second last year and is looking to move up a few places in the finishing list this year, so that these three can be counted on to lead the effort from start to finish as far as the Winged "O" is concerned.

All previous Marathons Albern, O'Neill and Carroll have always represented the Winged "O" and have been high in the list of those of known strength, the Winged "O" is going to set the pace for all other organizations. Particularly those who are found in the Virtus Club and the Union Sports Club.

WANT EVERY BLANKS
Entry blanks evidently went away on their way to the Virtus Club, for word was received from the organization yesterday asking for the necessary papers. The strength of the Virtus Club is unknown, but approximately 100 runners can be expected from the Italian organization.

The high school situation gained a little relief yesterday. The first entries from Oakland Tech and Fremont High cast into the ring. The Oakland boys, led by the representative from Tech to file his entry blank and Reginald Jones of Fremont, are the only ones who make it a three-cornered affair at the present time with Oakland High, Tech and Fremont. The latter has no registration number.

Dempsey, Miske Are Completing Their Training
By FRANK G. MENKE
International News Service Staff Correspondent
BENTON HARBOR, Mich., Aug. 28.—The Dempsey-Miske fight is now being completed. Both men are in perfect condition and are expected to meet on September 1st. Dempsey is a bit out of condition, but not in perfect fighting condition. Each knows a few defects that will take a week or so to correct. With Dempsey it is a case of better timing of punches; with Miske it is a need for sharper shoulders and a better timing of the head.

The Dempsey who will climb into the ring with Miske is a different boy from the Dempsey who was defeated by Miske in 1919. STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Aug. 28.—Bob Pelouze, who was defeated by Miske in 1919, is expected to return to the ring. Stanford is jubilant over the prospect of a rematch.

TOOTS AND CASPER

IT WASN'T CASPER'S IDEA OF A GOOD TIME

By Murphy

Inside Dope on the Little Four-Rounders

By BOB SHAND.

Jack Reeves and Frank Barrieau will furnish the fireworks at the Auditorium next Wednesday night. The boys were matched last night by Tommy Simpson, but they have been in training for a week, the match having been tentatively made some time ago when Simpson was the winner of the Sudeberg-Kelly fight at Dreamland last night. The big fellows battled an ordinary draw and Tommy could not see either of them as an opponent for his good middleweight. Larry Jones and Frankie Malone will box the special event. The other bouts are Eddie Gorman vs. Joe Coffey, Young Viera vs. Bert Forbes, Texas Kid vs. Jimmy Enoch, Al Ramirez vs. Young Parker, Gene Cline vs. Jack Rapke.

Dave Shade, the youngest member of the famous fighting family made a favorable impression at Dreamland last night when he fought Frankie Warren to a draw. It was Dave's first start as a main event lightweight, but he figures to get some more lucrative matches on the strength of his showing with the Philadelphian. It looked tough for the Concord lad in the third when Warren rocked him with a pair of hard rights, but Dave came back in the fourth and more than held his own. Most of the fans would have given Shade the decision had it been left to a jury of the customers, but the draw verdict was fair enough.

A sensational battle was expected to be waged, but it was simply an old-time brawl with both trying hard enough but not connecting. Each boy was wary of the other's punches and they fought to a draw. Al Gordon, the shifty lightweight from Portland, knocked Harry Scott down and then secured off with an easy decision. Russell Kane, an old timer, came out in the fourth and secured a win over Jimmy Fortney, Salter.

By EDDIE MURPHY

The little bushers and the ex-professionals have strived pretty hard all summer to keep the bush fans around the bay well entertained and fans have witnessed some mighty good baseball put up on the numerous lots around here, but starting off with the games to be played tomorrow fans can expect to see the kids and veterans displaying more "pep" and battling for every edge. The meeting held last Monday for the formation of the Class-A division of The OAKLAND TRIBUNE Midwinter League, and the one to be held next Monday night for the Class-B clubs has started the boys hoping and fighting to hold their jobs with their respective teams. Of course there will be many players in demand of the Midwinter League, but the returning of a lot of players from leagues to soon disband will mean that some boys now playing around here will last their jobs.

But six weeks will be in the class always been a bitter rival to the Tractors. The rivalry is so strong between the two managers that the Newark leader has told Bill Wagner to go on a business trip in order to avoid the "red-neck" line-up. That is a good thing, because the Newark team is being strengthened by some class players. Anyway it looks like the Newark and the Tractors will be the main attraction of the league. The Newark manager is expected to get even for the Tractors' copying the series last summer.

MAXWELLS AT ALAMEDA
Another game of importance on tomorrow's bill of fare is the one scheduled at Lincoln Park between the Oakland Athletics and the Maxwell Hardware men. The Maxwell Hardware men, who have been down in their bid for a berth in the Class A division of the winter league, are expected to go out and get the Athletics to show that they are as good as the Alamedans, who held the place in the league last year. Bill Wagner, for the Maxwell Hardware men, is expected to get even for the Tractors' copying the series last summer.

MOOSE TO PLAY SOLDIERS
The Oakland Moose are keeping busy each Sunday and seem to enjoy playing boys from Vallejo, San Francisco, and other local clubs. The Oakland Moose and tomorrow they will meet the nine of the 44th Infantry. When the Newark and the Oakland Moose are after one of the vacant berths in the Class A league, the Oakland Moose will be the main attraction of the league.

BASEBALL GOSSIP

The week of July 6 saw the Rainiers start their climb toward the top of the Pacific Coast League. Since that time they have met every club in the league and have not lost a series. They have completed a perfect season since that time and have already clinched the eighth one with the Oaks. If Pat Seals and his mates continue leading the Cincinnati Reds to the championship, what will they be able to say for Clyde Wares if his team wins the Coast League championship?

Today the Rainiers are slightly over six games behind the leading Bees. Even if the Rainiers don't finish on top, fans will be a long time forgetting the grandstand finish of Wares boys.

Without Bill Rodgers on the job, the Sacramento Coyotes are very less. When Bill was with them, the Coyotes would always be shouting and fans who have watched the Seals-Coyotes series certainly miss Bill.

Still the Coyotes are playing fairly good ball against the Seals. Their third game out of four by losing the tables on the last two runs yesterday at Recreation park, while Johnny Couch held the Coyotes to four runs.

Johnny was given wonderful support by his teammates and he needed all of it.

Only one putout was handed in the outfield by the Seals. Fitzgerald gathered Kopp's short fly to center the ninth.

Jimmy Caveney was the main support of Couch as he made several pretty stops around the short stop and these men were out first.

Caveney's double and Fitzgerald's single gave the Seals their first run in the opening inning. In the bottom of the first, Seals' pitcher, who had been in the game since the beginning, hit a third baseman who was out of the game.

Caveney was trapped off second base on a snafu throw by Prough, but he reached third on a fast throw and a safe slide. Then he scored on Agnew's out.

Local fans and admirers of Herb McDaniel, the Oakland winter league product who is now with the Seals, will get a chance to see him in action on the hill tomorrow morning at the local park. Secretary Putnam of the Seals announced that McDaniel will start at 10:30, will make the final appearance of the Coyotes here this season.

Oakland High Boys Practicing for 1920 Football Season
Captain Hannon announced his going yesterday for football material down to the local park. Hannon, a senior, and several other young Oakland high aspirants showed up at the local park and were seen by the coaches.

TROPHY OF THE CHASE

Local hunters are getting their fair share of venison this season. Judging from the reports being received daily and the number of bucks being brought into town, Dan Bolce and Dr. Prather of Oakland made a decision over a beautiful animal up in Lake county and like good little hunters, they did not forget to let a photographer take a shot at the game. Rainiers Gain On Salt Lake, Vernon Clubs

SEATTLE, Aug. 28.—Clyde Wares Rainiers took another step toward the top of the Pacific Coast League yesterday. The Rainiers led the boys out on a sloppy field to meet the Oaks in their fourth game of the week, and as was the case in the first three meetings, the locals walked off with the long end of the score. They failed to do again in the hard battle by the Oaks as they were the first three games. After Roy Francis, the California southpaw, disposed of the Oaks in the first inning, the locals went up to face the shoots of Ray Kramer and to show that they weren't to be stopped in their dash to Pennantville, Clyde's gang grabbed five runs and six hits off Kramer before Joe Boehling could be shot into the argument. Joe kept the locals from getting into the next three innings and the Rainiers were nicked for a pair of runs. It was a one-sided affair as the game wound up with an 8-10 score.

A heavy rain during the night left the field in a very sloppy condition, but failed to keep out thousands of the home fans from being out to see the game. Those fans did all their shouting in the first inning when Kramer was pounded for the five runs.

Middleton's single, Murphy's double, another single by Elford and a double by Keworth, followed by Cunningham's triple, counted the five runs. Boehling went into the box after Adams' double and retired him. The Oaks got their two runs in the third when Dorman and Lane got singles, while retired Alameda infielder, and Cooper singled. Roy Francis was not in trouble after that.

Keworth's single gave the Rainiers their sixth run in the fifth, while two singles and a walk gave them their last one in the sixth. The locals were kept out of the game yesterday's game, and also made their step toward the top, while the Bees were kept out of the game. The Oaks and the Tigers were having a day off because of rain at Portland.

No Football Team At Vallejo High School
VALLEJO, Aug. 28.—The idea of forming a football eleven at the Vallejo High School has been called off as the boys are more anxious to capture the basketball honors of the northern part of the state than to lead the coaches some time next week.

Harry Harper Breaks League Hitting Record
LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 28.—After hitting safely in 33 consecutive games, Harry Harper of the Little Rock Southern association team yesterday failed to get a hit in the second game of a doubleheader with New Orleans. The league record was 35 games.

Fishing Reports
BELDEN.
Fishing in the Feather river continues good, but catches are reported to be less than in the past. Deer are plentiful but few hunters have arrived as yet. Residents of Belden are bagging them.

KEDDIE.
Fishing is good and the fish bite on black flies and grasshoppers. There are not many hunters. W. A. Scott of San Francisco brought in a fine black weighing 100 pounds yesterday.

Of last year's Freshmen, Douglas, Sprague and Macdonald are expected to figure prominently on the varsity squad. Jack Patrick and Swede Richter, who are now with the All-American football team, are also eligible for the team.
